

Celebrate 80 Years of Portola Redwoods State Park!

Part of California State Parks Week

Join us at Portola Redwoods State Park for a special 80th Anniversary Celebration!

Discover the fascinating history beginning of the park, with the Quiroste, Olpen and Oljon tribes who managed the land from time immemorial, to Danish immigrant Christian Iverson, who built a cabin along Pescadero Creek in the 1860s. From its time as a lumber property to its transformation into a state park in 1945, Portola Redwoods has grown and thrived thanks to the efforts of incredible organizations like Save the Redwoods League and the Portola and Castle Rock Foundation.
